Q.7 PX is a tangent to a circle with centre O, drawn from point X outside the circle, and touching the circle at point P. The radius of this circle is 10 cm and OX = 26 cm. What is the length of PX?

Ans 💜 1. 24 cm

💢 2. 20 cm

X 3. 26 cm

X 4. 28 cm

Q.8 If the height of a cylinder is increased by 10 percent and the radius of its base is increased by 20 percent, then what will be the percentage increase in the curved surface area of the cylinder?

Ans X 1. 36 percent

X 2. 35 percent

X 3. 30 percent

Q.9 The only mode of the numbers 2, 4, 7, 110, 56, 2, 4, X, 4, 6 and 2 is 4. What is the value of X?

Ans X 1.6

X 2. 11

3. 4

X 4.2

Q.10 What is the value of 72 ÷ 9 × 4 + 22 ÷ 33 × 6 - 12 ÷ 3 × 4?

1. 20

X 2. 22

X 3. 24

Read the given passage carefully and select the most appropriate answer to the questions

No sooner had Freni's dog caught sight of him, however, than it began to bristle and growl savagely, and when he rushed down the steps it gave an undecided hop, and then sprang straight at his hand. "Whup!" cried Hall, jumping back, for he was no hero with dogs, and Freni howled, "Lie down!" and snatched his whip. They saw the dog's teeth had slipped the hand, heard a kick, saw the dog execute a flanking jump and get home on the stranger's leg, and heard the rip of his trousering. Then the finer end of Freni's whip reached his property, and the dog, yelping with dismay, retreated under the wheels of the waggon. It was all the business of a swift half-minute. No one spoke, everyone shouted. The stranger glanced swiftly at his torn glove and at his leg, made as if he would stoop to the latter, then turned and swilly at his torn glove and at his leg, made as if he would stoop to the latter, then turned and rushed swiftly up the steps into the inn. They heard him go headlong across the passage and up the uncarpeted stairs to his bedroom. "You brute, you!" said Freni, climbing off the waggon with his whip in his hand, while the dog watched him through the wheel. "Come here," said Freni—"You'd better."

"Whup!" cried Hall, jumping back, for he was no hero with dogs, and Freni howled, "Lie down!" and snatched his whip. They saw the dog's teeth had slipped the hand, heard a kick, saw the dog execute a flanking jump and get home on the stranger's leg, and heard the rip of his trousering. Then the finer end of Freni's whip reached his property, and the dog, yelping with dismay, retreated under the wheels of the waggon. It was all the business of a swift half-minute. No one spoke, everyone shouted. The stranger glanced swiftly at his torn glove and at his leg, made as if he would stoop to the latter, then turned and rushed swiftly up the steps into the inn. They heard him go headlong across the passage and up the uncarpeted stairs to his bedroom. "You brute, you!" said Freni, climbing off the waggon with his whip in his hand, while the dog watched him through the wheel. "Come here," said Freni—"You'd better."

British Captain Hawkins arrived in the court of Jahangir in April 1609 itself. But the mission to establish a factory at Surat didn't succeed due to opposition from the Portuguese, and Hawkins left Agra in November 1611. In 1611, the English had started trading at Masulipatnam on the south-eastern coast of India and later established a factory there in 1616. It was in 1612 that Captain Thomas Best defeated the Portuguese in the sea off Surat; an impressed Jahangir granted permission to the English in early 1613 to establish a factory at Surat under Thomas Aldworth. In 1615, Sir Thomas Roe came as an accredited ambassador of James I to the court of Jahangir, staying on there till February 1619. Though he was unsuccessful in concluding a commercial treaty with the Mughal emperor, he was able to secure a number of privileges, including permission to set up factories at Agra, Ahmedabad and Broach. The English company did not have a smooth progress. It had to contend with the Portuguese and the Dutch in the beginning. But the changing situation helped them and turned things in their favour. Bombay had been gifted to King Charles II by the King of Portugal as dowry when Charles married the Portuguese princess Catherine in 1662.
